Hero Kept In Seclusion SHEP'S SUCCESS TOASTED

GRAND BAHAMA ISLAND (AP) — Spaceman Alan B. Shepard's "perfect flight" was toasted in champagne when he arrived here Friday, but doctors waiting to check him over did not allow him to participate.

Flashing a big grin, the hungry Shepard "joyed a huge shrimp cocktail, roast beef sandwich and iced tea."

Hurried into isolation of a hospital guarded by a sentry with holstered pistol, the young astronaut then began at least 24 hours of comprehensive medical and psychological checkups, and detailed reports on all technicalities of his historic mission.

"He looks great, feels great. He is jolly and joking as he always is," said Capt. Virgil I. Grissom, a fellow astronaut who admits he was a bit envious and certainly hopes he will be chosen for the next rocket ride.

Couldn't Be Better
Astronaut Donald Slayton called the flight "perfect — it couldn't have been any better." He told

Shepard, "You pulled it off real good," in a back-slapping greeting at the airport on this pine and palmetto island.

"Everything went fine," Shepard said within earshot of reporters. He waved, but no interviews were permitted.

Shepard Had Rare Courage

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
COURAGE is a word for which every man provides his own definition, based on his own experience.

What went on in the mind of Alan B. Shepard Jr., during those three hours he sat alone on the nose of the rocket, waiting to go on his gamble with death, or during the long days of waiting after he knew he had been selected?

It is not likely that the earth-bound will ever really know. Shepard will tell us something. But the memory does not accurately record such moments, any more than it does extreme pain, or the agony of watching a loved one approach the critical crisis of illness.

Many men know, however, that time to think with life at stake is an agony all its own. It is time in which a man may fail to hold his course and cry out for release.

When he does not, his name may go down in the history of science, or of war, or of many other things. It surely goes down in the most carefully preserved annals of mankind—the history of courage.

If he was harmed in any way, it didn't show. He was in high spirits when he stepped off the plane that brought him here after his space capsule was recovered from the ocean.

Shepard rode in the automobile of Capt. Hugh May, commander of this island missile-tracking station, from the airfield to the hospital. He was put in bed immediately.

Lt. Col. John Powers, spokesman for the astronauts, said he had never seen Shepard more cool and calm.

After an extensive physical checkup, Col. William Douglas, personal physician for the astronauts, declared that Shepard was "in excellent shape and health."

He said further tests would be made but he doubted that they would show any ill effects due to the flight.

Col. Douglas said Shepard also was examined by a psychiatrist, Dr. George Ruff of the University of Pennsylvania, and he found "nothing startling or astounding." He was pleased and somewhat amazed that Al is in such good shape.

Col. John Powers said Shepard's schedule then would be: A half-hour to do as he pleased. Next a full hour of free dictation into a tape recorder to recount his experiences because "we want to make sure we don't lead him on his thoughts," Powers said.

Engineers Next
After this, two engineers will go over details with Shepard concerning how the rocket and capsule worked.

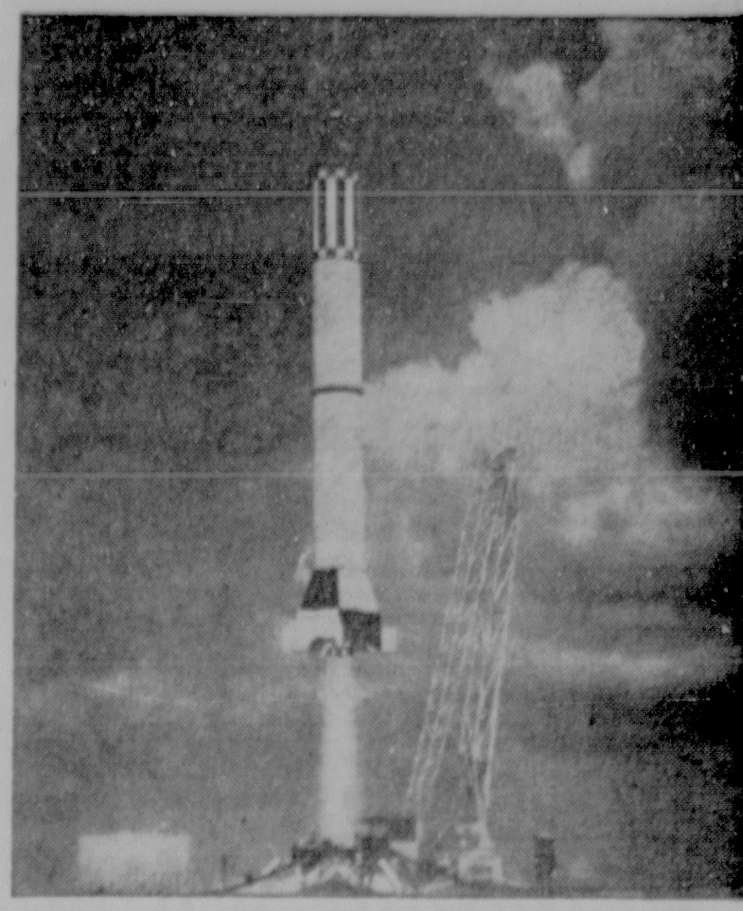

Then Slayton and Grissom will have a session of pilot shop-talk with Shepard.

Last night he rested and got a full night's sleep.

Today he will be interviewed by psychologists concerning his feelings and sensations.

The White House announced late Friday that Shepard will be flown to Washington Monday morning to receive the personal congratulations of President Kennedy.

The astronaut will be reunited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan B. Shepard Sr. of Derry, N.H., his wife, Louise, and all will go to the White House for a televised and broadcast ceremony.

Shepard's Perfect Flight Gives U.S. Mighty Stride In Space Race

As Does America

JFK Rejoices At Space Feat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy publicly and proudly rejoiced Friday at America's launching of a man into space.

But he tempered elation with word that more money must be poured into redoubled efforts to explore space.

Minutes after Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., returned from flashing 115 miles into the skies, Kennedy issued a statement saying "all America rejoices in this successful flight" — but it also should provide an incentive for redoubled efforts "in this vital field."

Then at a later news conference the President spoke with pride of Shepard's accomplishment and again of the challenge that lies ahead.

He said that yes, he is going to ask Congress for additional appropriations—"we are going to make a substantially larger effort in space."

After a bow to the human accomplishment and courage demonstrated in Russia's successful effort to put a man into orbit around the earth and bring him back, Kennedy added:

"We have a long way to go in the field of space. We are behind. But we are working hard and we are going to increase our efforts."

He repeated what he had said earlier, that the United States intends to share with the world the scientific information obtained in Friday's space flight and will continue to be motivated by the view that "the probe into space should be peaceful."

To his knowledge, Kennedy said Russia has not offered to share the facts it developed from its manned space shot.

Troop Shipment

The conference also produced word from the chief executive that the matter of sending U. S. troops to help South Vietnam ward off Communist thrusts is "still under consideration."

That, he said, is one of the things Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will take up with the South Vietnamese government on a trip to Southeast Asia next week.

Kennedy said the administration also is considering carefully all the implications of a complete ban on trade with Cuba. He noted that only foods and medicines now are exempt.

Kennedy also told a questioner the United States is not now training and is not now planning to train any force of Cuban exiles.

In discussing Friday morning's sortie into space, Kennedy acknowledged that the country would have been humiliated by a failure.

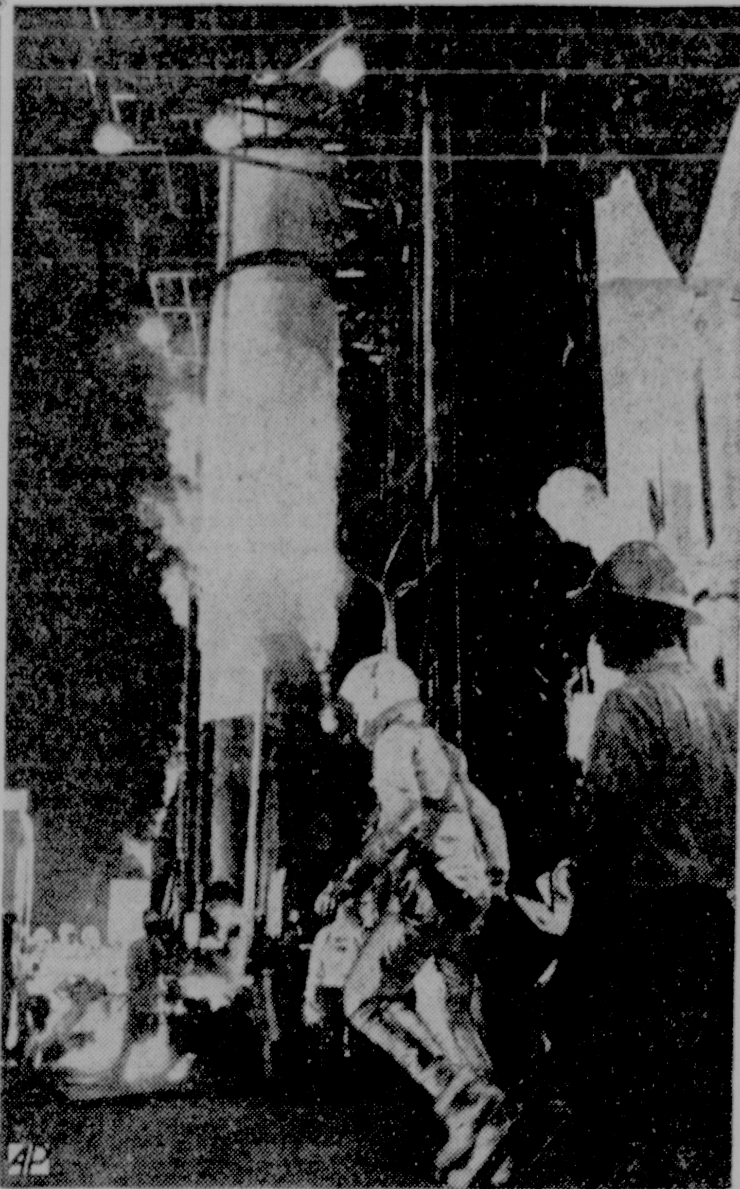

He said this was especially true in view of the detailed press coverage of the build-up to the flight — but he added that in a free country any type of enterprise must be expected to be public.

Body Of Girl, 8 Found In Canal

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The nude, murdered body of 8-year-old Mary Helen Jablonski was found in a canal in Pennsylvania Friday.

Five hours after discovery of the body in Lower Makefield Township, Pa., Trenton police said they were questioning a strong suspect in the case.

The FBI also entered the case to determine if federal law had been violated.

Tornado Slashes Okla., 12 Killed

POTEAU, Okla. (AP)—Twelve persons were killed and at least 4 injured Friday when a tornado smashed two tiny eastern Oklahoma villages near here.

The death toll could go higher as rescue workers dug into debris at the community of Howe, a town of 500 persons that reportedly was half blown away. Eight were known dead there.

Four were killed at the nearby hamlet of Richton.

It was a grim anniversary for this rolling, wooded area some 200 miles southeast of Oklahoma City. Just one year ago 12 were killed when a twister destroyed most of the downtown area of Wilburton.

Tornadoes had plagued Oklahoma for two days, but until Friday night there had just been one fatality from the scores of funnels sighted.

Two Babies

Two of the dead were babies. One father died with his 3-month-old son and a mother with her 14-month-old boy.

Tiny farms are scattered throughout the twister-pounded area. Reports of twisters came from other areas of eastern Oklahoma.

The little town of Richton was hit first. Then the tornado plowed through Howe.

'Boy, What A Ride!' Pilot Exults After Blasting 115 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Beaming "Boy, what a ride!" astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. returned safely to earth after blasting 115 miles into space — a perfect flight Friday that gave the United States a mighty stride forward in the space race with the Soviet Union.

"What a beautiful sight," the 37-year-old test pilot exulted at the top of his 15-minute hop into space and back.

His 6-by-9-foot space capsule reached speeds of 5,160 miles an hour before plunging into the Atlantic 302 miles southeast, where it was plucked from the waves by a helicopter.

Shepard was flown immediately to the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain, where physicians began checking him over for any ill effects.

"I don't think there's much you'll have to do to me, Doc," he told one of the physicians.

The physician who monitored his condition by radio during the flight — which subjected him to stresses up to 11 times that of normal gravity — reported the lean, muscular astronaut was probably the calmest man in the whole operation.

JFK Congratulations

President Kennedy telephoned his congratulations to Shepard within minutes after the astronaut's arrival on the carrier and told him of the hero's welcome awaiting him in Washington.

"This is an historic milestone in our own exploration into space," the President said.

A U.S. space agency official said Shepard's feat is only the beginning of America's exploration of space. Deputy Administrator Hugh Dryden said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is planning to send an astronaut into orbit around the earth soon. Later, he said, one of them will travel to the moon and back.

The Redstone rocket used as a booster for the flight blasted away from its pad here at 9:34 a.m. Eastern Standard Time. "In 17 minutes later Shepard climbed out of the capsule's escape hatch and was picked up by helicopter.

"It's a beautiful day," he told the copter crewmen.

Exciting Ride

"Boy, what a ride!" Exciting as it was, the flight was still secondary to "the fact of the Soviet Union's Yuri A. Gagarin, who April 12 was hurled into a 188-mile-high orbit around the globe. He returned to earth safely 108 minutes after being launched.

A test of the only American rocket believed capable of duplicating the Soviet success ended disastrously last week when an Atlas veered off course and had to be destroyed 40 seconds after launch.

Shepard remained calm all through the four hours he was in his "contour couch" in the capsule atop the rocket before liftoff.

He climbed a service tower and entered his space cabin at 5:18 a.m. The preliminary countdown was then virtually on schedule.

A long series of delays due to minor technical problems and bad weather followed.

Then the 83-foot-tall projectile shot into the sky, trailing a long streak of vapor.

Two F106 jet planes roared across the Cape. Piloting them were Walter Schirra and Scott Carpenter, members of the seven-man Mercury astronaut team, who watched the launching from the air and sped south to observe the recovery.

The rocket shot into a large cloud overhanging the Cape, then emerged on course.

During the 140 seconds of extreme acceleration, Shepard withstood a pressure of 6 G's without comment.

A sudden puff of smoke high in the sky told ground watchers that the booster's big engine had run out of fuel—on schedule—and the rocket case dropped away. So did the escape tower which had protected him on launch.

As the capsule sped on through space, a periscope extended automatically giving Shepard his first look at the earth below. "What a beautiful view," he radioed.

Sees East Coast

Then he reported that he could see the whole Eastern coast of the United States.

Taking manual control of jets which control the capsule, Shepard turned his craft around a full 180 degrees.

This placed the capsule's broad base, shielded against the 3,000-degree heat that air friction would build up when he re-entered the atmosphere on his way down, in position.

Then the capsule went through a test of the braking rockets that will be needed in later orbital flights. The rockets are designed to slow the space craft down so it can drop back into the atmosphere.

Shepard fired the braking rockets on schedule and reported: "Everything very smooth."

As he approached re-entry into the atmosphere, Shepard radioed: "Automatic controls performing properly." That indicated he had shut off his manual controls.

Good Morning!

This would be a better world if we had more wild life in our forest and less in the cities.

Astronaut's Wife Bubbles With Joy

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—A beaming Louise Shepard said Friday her husband's journey to the fringe of space was "just a baby step" compared with new challenges ahead.

Radiating confidence in her astronaut husband, Alan B. Shepard Jr., she said Friday's feat helped soothe her disappointment over Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin's head start into space.

"They—the astronauts—knew they were so close. They knew like everybody else that they could do it," the 34-year-old brunette said after she had time to collect her thoughts.

Hard Question

"Would you like to see your husband in orbit around the earth?" she was asked. She hesitated.

"Well," she said, drawing the word out, "it is a hard question, but," she sighed, "yes, since he wants it so very badly."

She had hoped to report to reporters and through them to the nation what her husband had told her by telephone of the flight. But the expected call did not come in time.

"He's still isolated with the medics as far as I know," she said.

Mrs. Shepard is a glowingly beautiful woman, tanned, with a sparkling white smile and deep-set eyes. Somehow, though, she does not photograph well.

She faced a curious world Friday in a simple chocolate brown linen dress, topped with an embroidered pink cardigan sweater. On her feet were low-heeled brown and white spectator pumps.

Louise Shepard's figure stays trim probably because she, with her two daughters, shares her husband's enthusiasm for sports. She often goes bicycling along the curling rustic roads in the bay colony area here.

National Interest

Staying home and keeping things as normal as possible has been her most difficult of all trials since Alan was appointed one of the seven astronauts, she told reporters.

Still, it was obvious that from now on the little girls, as their parents are to be of national interest. "I never thought about it," Mrs. Shepard replied modestly when she was asked if she realized the Shepard name was now of historic importance.

A niece, Alice Williams, hadn't thought much about anything but her birthday Friday. She had agreed to postpone celebrating being 10 until Saturday.

But photographers, radio and TV men latched on to her and the Shepard daughter, Julianna, also 10, whenever they emerged from their police-protected house.

At last the desperate mother sent a message to reporters asking them not to question the children further.

Daughter Laura, 13, attending Principia Boarding School in St. Louis, missed all the front lawn excitement, but mother and daughter shared mutual pride in Daddy's accomplishment during a phone call Friday morning.

Laura's teachers had permitted her to watch her father's ride in the Mercury capsule.

Spaceman Frank Wanted To Be 1st

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Navy Cmdr. Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr., 37, drew on a background as an athlete and an intellectual to become America's first spaceman.

He combines a genius-level intelligence quotient of between 135 and 147 with a fondness for keeping trim by water skiing and road running.

His life has been marked by a determination to do more than enough.

Unsatisfied with the speed of a Navy flight-training course he was taking, he spent his spare time taking lessons at a civilian flight school.

Took It Up Too

When fellow astronaut, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., began running two miles every morning to keep his weight down, the slim

Shepard, 5 feet 11, weighing 160 pounds, took up road work, too.

Shepard excelled in "school work" among astronauts.

Shepard, without any false modesty, frankly wanted to be the first man into space.

Prior to the Soviet Union orbiting a man, Shepard had summed it up this way: "There are lots of answers why I want to be the first man into space, but a short answer would be this: The flight obviously is a challenge and I feel that the more severe challenge will occur on the first flight, and I signed up to accept this challenge."

One reason he was able to accept the challenge, he said, was that his wife, Louise, and two children, Laura, 13, and Julianna, 9, took "a calm, rational approach" to it.

Shepard was born Nov. 18, 1923, at East Derry, N.H., and is a Christian Scientist. His father is a retired Army colonel, but the son chose the Navy.

He was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1944.

War II Action

He saw World War II action by serving aboard the destroyer Cogswell in the Pacific. He began flight training after the war and served aboard aircraft carriers in the Mediterranean, then became a test pilot.

Shepard flew high-altitude research missions, helped develop the Navy's in-flight refueling system and contributed to research on carrier landing techniques.

Shepard has 3,700 hours of flying time—none quite like the 15 minutes he spent aloft Friday.

Out of the Heart

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—I Kings 3:5-9; Proverbs 3:1-8; 4:20-25; Luke 6:43-45.

Solomon, succeeding his father, David, as ruler of Israel, offered sacrifices to the Lord in a "great high place" called Gibeon. God appeared in a dream before him that night, saying, "Ask what I shall give thee."—I Kings 3:43-45.

Answered Solomon, "I know not how to go out or come in... Give therefore Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this Thy so great a people?"—I Kings 3:7-9.

Solomon instructed his own children in the ways of the Lord. He admonished them to keep not only the letter of the laws, but to keep their meaning. "Keep thy heart with all diligence," he said, "for out of it are the issues of life."—Proverbs 3:1; 4:23.

Christ, speaking also of the importance of the heart, pointed out that "a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit."—Luke 6:43.

GOLDEN TEXT: Proverbs 4:23.

Today's Lesson: Out Of The Heart

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

A PERSON'S greatest treasure is his heart, or basic character, for that determines all his actions; this is the theme of this week's lesson.

It is first illustrated by Solomon in his prayer to God when he succeeds David to the throne of Israel in 963 B.C. Going to a "great high place" of worship called Gibeon, some five miles northwest of Jerusalem, Solomon offers up no fewer than a thousand sacrifices on the altar there.

That night the Lord appears to Solomon in a dream, saying, "Ask what I shall give thee." (I Kings 3:5).

Solomon's reply is one of great humility and honesty. He confesses that he is "but a little child," saying he "know(s) not how to go out or come in." He asks nothing for himself but wisdom to govern God's great and chosen people. "Give therefore Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad," he pleads. (I Kings 3:9).

The wisdom which God granted Solomon was put to good use. "He (Solomon) was wiser than all men," we are told, "and his face was in all nations round about. And he spake three thousand proverbs" (I Kings 4:31-32), a compilation of which makes up the book of Proverbs.

There he records how he teaches his own children that while his specific laws must be remembered and obeyed, the most important law, from which all man's laws derive, is the law of God—love—which comes from the heart. "Forget not my law," he says, "but let thine heart keep (watch over) my commandments." (Proverbs 3:1).

Furthermore, he tells his children, if they will "in all ways acknowledge" the Lord, "He shall direct thy paths" (Proverbs 3:6). Here the word "acknowledge" means "to gain knowledge of." (H. P. Liddon in "Peloubet's Select Notes").

In this week's golden text, Solomon suggests that the actions we perform in our everyday lives, the decisions we make, the words we speak—all these are not isolated things but proceed from a single core—the heart, or our basic character.

In the passage from Luke Christ rebukes the Jews for their failure to keep this core from corruption. They try to guide others while violating some of God's basic laws, He implies. In the parable of the good and the corrupt trees He exhorts them to purify their hearts, for "the good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good . . . for the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh." (Luke 6:45).

How does one obtain a "good treasure" in his heart?

"In the (same) way that we get valuable things . . . in the bank," suggests W. M. Smith ("Peloubet's Select Notes"); "we put them there. Weeds grow naturally, but not roses. The cultivation of the heart is a continuous process in life."

problems of the aging, the Communist threat, and race relations in the local church will also be considered.

Prominent speakers from overseas at the assembly will include Charles Malik, Lebanese diplomat, and John Karef-Smith, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Sierra Leone.

Rev. Crowther Appointed As Commissioner

REV. WESLEY Crowther, of Shawnee-on-Delaware, pastor of the Middle Smithfield and Shawnee Presbyterian Churches, will be a commissioner to the 173rd General Assembly of The United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., in Buffalo, N. Y., May 17 to 24.

At the assembly, governing body of the church, Rev. Crowther will be one of the 988 commissioners who will consider the policies, programs and finance of the 3,209,682 member denominations. A major issue this year will be a proposal to invite discussions for union with the Protestant Episcopal Church and others.

Religion Today:

Religious Whirlwind Building Up

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Signs of a religious whirlwind are building up today in the lands of the Caribbean.

Not only in Cuba is the atmosphere darkening, but also in Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

The strains of last year's election conflict between the Roman Catholic Church and the government in Puerto Rico also linger.

For months, in the other island countries, the tension has been mounting with periodic open clashes.

When Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro let it be known this week that his regime plans to expel foreign Roman Catholic priests and nationalize Catholic-run schools, the move was not without advance portents.

Early this year, he had said,

"Falangist priests still reign in the church schools, inciting counterrevolution in the youths, and the government planned to get rid of 'the sowers of traitors.'"

Cuba has many Spanish priests.

Last February, an electro-mechanical training center run by Jesuits was seized by the government. The Cuban hierarchy has criticized the regime. The conflict has caused breaches in the Church.

A Cuban priest, the Rev. German Lence, suspended last year for defying a bishop, has set up a separate government-supported religious association called "With the Cross and Fatherland."

Protestant churches in Cuba have fared variously, some of them reporting rapid gains and expansion.

But the picture lately has become uncertain, with contact with the Cuban churches broken.

In Haiti, the government of President Francois Duvalier last year ousted two bishops, and anti-Catholic action continued into this year.

The Vatican has declared that everyone who had anything to do with the expulsions was excommunicated. Presumably this included the president and other high officials of the predominant Catholic nation.

Last February, French-born Bishop Paul Robert was ousted from his residence in Port-au-Prince, and forced to take refuge in the residence of the papal representative in Haiti. About 25 priests and 20 nuns were reported arrested.

The government blamed "foreign priests" for the unrest, and installed a native Haitian, the Rev. Claudius Angeon, as administrator of Catholic affairs in Port-Au-Prince.

A Jesuit review in Rome, Civiltà Cattolica, called the charges absurd.

In the Dominican Republic, ruled by dictator Gen. Rafael Trujillo, mass arrests of citizens last year led the Catholic hierarchy to protest "flagrant violations of human rights."

Later, the government called the Vatican's nuncio an "international provocateur" and expelled him. An estimated 46 priests and 150 nuns have since been expelled. The government has said it plans to eliminate religious instruction in grade schools.

STORM of LIFE

"If only I could get out from under, get away from it all, find some island of peace..."

Like everybody else, we want to escape our problems and pressures. We are seeking calm away from the storm of life.

But we can't escape from life. We can't run away from the storm but we can find calm in the storm. When a hurricane sweeps across the countryside, its circling winds lashing out in destruction, there is always in the center, an area of quiet. In the eye of the storm there is calm.

Faith is not an escape, a running away into religion. It is finding the presence and adequacy of God to face life triumphantly. It is finding an inner center of peace while the winds blow outside.

The Church points the way to peace. It helps us to find the inner experience of faith.

"I have found my island... an island of peace in my heart. I have found calm... the calm of God in the storm of life..."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No Bargain Here

Statistically speaking, the people of Delaware pay 13 cents less than the residents of New Jersey for each federal aid dollar they get.

But to neither state — nor 13 others including Pennsylvania — is such aid much of a "bargain." Fact is, Tax Foundation Inc. points out, each of the 15 states pays more as its share of the overall tax burden to support these aid programs than it gets in aid from Uncle Sam.

In fiscal 1960, the federal government paid out $6.8 billion in grants-in-aid to state and local governments, about triple the 1950 total, $2.3 billion.

At the top of the state list stands New Jersey. For each $1 in aid it receives, that state paid $2.14. Delaware paid $2.01 for each $1 in federal aid.

Pennsylvania was fifth on the list, paying $1.41 for each $1 it received from the federal government. At the bottom of the states was Alaska, which received $1 for each 16 cents it paid.

Tax Foundation, a research organization, estimates that such aids, covering about 100 "grants-in-aid" programs, result in $3 out of each $4 making a "round trip" to Washington and return to state of origin.

And, it notes, if legislation now before Congress is enacted, additional "round trip dollar" aid programs will result. Rather than a lowering of taxes as we had hoped, we seem to face the prospect of an increased burden on our pocketbooks.

Give Us Men Not Average

This is a time when much is said about averages. Great effort is put forth and extensive surveys are made to determine what constitutes an average man.

The candidate wants to know what the average voter thinks. The grocer wants to know what the average housewife wants to cook.

A few merchants will cater only to what the discriminating person will buy, but most merchants want to know what the average person will buy.

Frequently published in widely read periodicals are quizzes, questionnaires and subjective tests by which the reader is led to believe that he can evaluate himself and determine the extent to which he might vary from the average. Perhaps all too many of us are satisfied to ascertain that at least we are average.

We must guard against permitting the average to become a goal or an ideal. Being average simply means that one is better than the worst, and certainly not as good as the best.

It is indeed disastrous to the incentive and ambition of a person of high ability to know that the gains he makes above average will be taken away.

It is equally disastrous, but in a somewhat different way, to the incentive and ambition of a person of less ability to realize that his achievements which fall below average will be supplemented without further effort on his part.

In the former it creates a sense of frustration and a "What's-the-use?" attitude. In the latter it creates a false sense of security that inspires nothing. In both the result is the same. It tolls the death knell of morale in both the capable and the incapable, the talented and the untalented.

The final status of a people so governed is one of despicable mediocrity. They become the ripened target for whoever would possess them. They have nothing of which to be proud and nothing to defend.

Reducing mankind to an average by peaceful means is socialism. Doing it by force is communism. The result is the same in either case. The socialist would reduce us to an average people under the false assumption that all our difficulties would thereby be overcome and our problems resolved.

The communist would reduce us to the same inert state but further weakened in the process by bloody revolution to hasten the day of our disaster. The communist is not willing to wait on the slower process of legislation and the erosive method of so-called social reform.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Who Is Wrong?

This is in response to a letter from a lady in Louisiana, who writes:

"Without knowing much about the Russians, I am sure that their development and accomplishments are spotty and I think we should be told about it."

"I know that their development has been remarkable but what about theirs in comparison to ours."

"I imagine that they lack aesthetic sense. Their interests are limited in their scope. They set a goal and achieve it, but there are more goals than are heard of in their philosophy."

"Do you realize how wonderful we are? I would hate to turn a middle middle class (sic) Russian loose among the second hand stores and tell her to develop a home. The result would be horrid. An American woman can develop a charming home with soap boxes and a little paint. Our working girls have the grooming and good taste of debutantes. Things like that are not superficial. They require admirable qualities."

Perhaps the weakness in our position as regards Soviet Russia is that we have underestimated the Russians. The assumption in the above letter is that the Russians are barbarians, although there is a history of more than a thousand years of culture and civilization of a very high order.

As long as we believe that every Russian is a moujik, we shall continue to underestimate the peoples who live in the vast area which is marked Russian on the map.

How can anyone say that the Russians lack an aesthetic sense, by which, I assume that my correspondent means that the Russians have produced nothing in the various fields of art.

One need only know Russian music, Rimsky - Korsakov, Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff, to mention only a few pre - Bolshevik composers; or in literature, Tolstoy, Gorki, Chekhov, merely to scratch the surface of the subject.

In science, the Russians and Poles have a long and important history, including Copernicus (a Pole), Mendeleev who worked out the table of valences, and among moderns many others.

I am not listing the wonders of Russia. That is their job. I am denouncing the ignorance of those who believe that wisdom and knowledge can be the monopoly of any one people.

After all, Avicenna (born in Bukhara in 980), one of the great philosophers of the Middle Ages, came from a country which is now become weak and backward.

It is not lessening the structure of the United States to recognize that there have been about 8,000 years or more of written history, whereas we have been on this continent only three centuries.

We have inherited from others because the culture of man is continuous. Greece and Rome and Palestine and the long ancient history of England have played an enormous role in the development of the United States.

The assumption of exclusiveness is distorting. It leads to false conclusions. We exaggerated the significance of Sputnik because we assumed that the Russians could never do what we could not yet do.

Some folks, even yet, refuse to believe that there has been a Sputnik and a Lunik and it is this lack of understanding which is partly responsible for our failures in Cuba, the Congo, Laos and elsewhere.

Someone spread the notion that there is some extraordinary gift called know - how which is exclusive to no people; that what one people knows is soon known to all.

In the 1920's we spoke of the United States as "God's own country," which was both un-historical and sacrilegious, for surely all the universe is God's. The metaphor, however, meant that this was the best country on Earth to live in, which is true for Americans but not for Hindus, Chinese, Welshmen or Scandinavians.

They like their own country as we like ours. Therefore, when the 1929 Depression appeared we morally dropped dead. When Roosevelt tried to convince us that a third of the nation were economically disabled, we forgot which became a corny expression.

We insisted that all American history prior to 1932 had been an error and that we need to try altogether new methods. Thus, producing the confusing New Deal.

We need a more realistic attitude toward ourselves and toward the rest of the world. We need to recognize that we are one fact in a vast geography and a long history and that we dare not exaggerate our own importance or underestimate the values of other nations.

There is no greater peril than ignorance overlaid by emotions particularly when we reject knowledge to prove an assumption. The error of the past 40 years in our relation with Soviet Russia and Soviet satellites is that we have been unwilling to believe the truth about them because the proof did not sound true.

Reports From Congress

Doubles Grants

By Congressional Quarterly

Washington — Under a proposal approved by the House of Representatives, Pennsylvania would be eligible for $4,198,500 annually in federal grants to aid in the construction of sewage treatment plants. This is twice as much as the state has been eligible to receive under previous legislation.

The construction grants program is part of a larger Federal Water Pollution Control program which also provides matching federal grants to states for the administration of their own pollution control programs and gives the Federal Government the authority to require that certain polluters stop contaminating the waters.

The House Public Works Committee, in approving the new plan April 25, said the nation's water demands were expected to exceed the available supply by 1969, making it "obvious" that water needs "from now on must be met by using the same water over and over."

The nation, the report said, would have to spend an average of $600 million a year through 1970 in order to construct the number of water treatment plants needed by that year. The funds provided in the bill — $100 million in federal funds each year—were intended to stimulate state, local and private investments of about $500 million.

Controversial Item — Federal water pollution control programs have been a controversial item in recent years. President Eisenhower was dedicated to the philosophy that water pollution control was a purely local problem and therefore the financial responsibility rested largely with the states or local communities.

Congress, against his recommendations, in 1960 passed a bill increasing the authorization for federal construction grants from $500 million to $900 million, but Mr. Eisenhower vetoed the bill and Congress was unable to override it.

President Kennedy, in contrast, has recommended an increase in the federal water pollution control program, including an increase in federal grants, along the lines of the bill described above.

How It Works — Under the construction grants program approved by the House and sent to the Senate, a state or community makes an application to the Health, Education and Welfare Department for a grant to help it build a sewage treatment plant. If the application is approved, then the grant is made on the basis of the estimated construction cost of the plant.

Under the plan, the grants would cover 30 percent of the first $1 million of the estimated cost, 15 percent of the next $2 million and 10 percent of the remainder, but are not to exceed $800,000. Under present law, grants are limited to $250,000 or a flat 30 percent of the total cost, whichever is less.

Congress sets an over-all limit on this part of the program as well as a limit on the amount that can be spent in any one year. Current law restricts annual appropriations to $50 million and the entire amount of the program to $500 million.

Under the proposed change, annual appropriations would be raised to $100 million, with an over-all ceiling of $1 billion for the life of the program. The allotments are made on the basis of population and per capita income.

Pennsylvania ranks second in comparison with other states and territories in the amount for which it is eligible under the construction grants program.

Other Provisions — The proposed bill also increases from $3 million to $5 million the annual limit on the total amount of federal matching grants to states for the administration of their own pollution control programs and extends the time limit on these grants through June 30, 1971. This program helps states to set up the administrative machinery for its own enforcement procedures, determine its pollution abatement needs and aids communities in solving purely local pollution problems.

It also extends the Federal Government's authority to enforce pollution abatement to all navigable and coastal waters regardless of whether they flow across state lines, authorizes the establishment of field research facilities and puts the administration of the federal side of the program directly under the HEW Secretary. Under existing law, the Surgeon General administers the law.

How many remember in 1921 when Harry E. Heller was supplying electricity to residents of that community with his own power plant?

Billy Herman was sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers by the Chicago Cubs. Herman was to be the link that would cinch the pennant for the Dodgers this year.

By Bob Clark

REP. Francis E. Walter, Democrat of Easton, and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat of Philadelphia, are competing with each other in efforts to win speedy passage of legislation approving an interstate compact for development of Delaware River water resources.

Walter got the jump on Clark by introducing a bill into the House before Clark, with seven other senators, offered a measure in the Senate. Clark is a former mayor of Philadelphia, principal user of Delaware River water.

Congressman Walter stayed out in front by pushing his measure through a House Judiciary committee which he heads, despite initial opposition from Secretary of Interior Stewart U. Call. The full Judiciary Committee then approved the bill.

Walter has been one of the key figures over the years, attempting to set up Tocks Island and the other advantages from the Delaware River.

He also was the leader in setting up the compact which brings in four states — Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware—and the federal government as sponsors of the huge project.

Even back in the days when Incelod was the name, "Tad" used his political savvy to channel important phases into the now strong and almost sure to be passed compact.

A recent student opinion poll feels that American women should be called up for selective service as teachers' assistants, nurses' aides and social workers. Girls are more enthusiastic about the idea than boys in the attitude of "What's good for the goose is good for the gander."

Even educators have put their stamp of approval on drafting females. One says they should serve overseas the same as men. He feels there are many positions where a woman could serve "their country and serve it admirably."

Maybe the students have a point and the educators a solid foundation for the basis of their thinking. However, we still are of the old school and say, "A woman's place is in the home." Need more be said except to tighten up our thick skin and take the expected barrage from the feminine side of life.

Two elderly ladies arrived at a baseball game just as the batter hit a home run. They sat watching the game in silence until — several innings later — the same batter came up to bat and he hit another home run.

One of the ladies tapped the other on the shoulder and said: "Let's go. This is where we came in."

The Allen-Scott Report

Hemispheric Defense

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, — The U.S. and Latin American foes of Fidel Castro are turning to a highly effective World War II agency to combat his now openly Communist dictatorship.

The State Department is conducting extensive diplomatic consultations to reestablish the Committee for Political Defense of the Western Hemisphere that in World War II proved very successful in countering the Axis powers subversive, sabotage and espionage operations in Latin America.

Already nine Latin American countries, approximately half of the Organization of American States, have heartily approved this potentially powerful weapon against Castro.

The goal is a two - thirds majority, which is expected to be reached within a month.

Once this potent World War II committee is re-created, it will be possible to launch an organized drive under OAS auspices for hemisphere - wide diplomatic and economic crackdown on Castro and his Red satellite regime.

Overall aim of this strategy is to seal off Cuba from Latin America.

For that purpose, the U.S. contemplates a series of forceful measures, among them: Economic sanctions against Castro to isolate him from hemispheric trade, particularly from obtaining urgently - needed U.S. equipment & parts through Latin American sources. Already a number of Cuban sugar and other plants, utilities and much transport are either shut down or in serious difficulties because of such shortage.

A hemispheric police force, of ground, air and naval units, to, in effect, blockade Cuba and prevent Castro and his horde of Communist agents from using that country as an operating base for subversion, sabotage and espionage.

Greatly increased and intensified U.S. economic, educational and cultural relations throughout Latin America, particularly in countries actively supporting us against Castro. The revived Committee for Political Defense of the Hemisphere will be an extremely helpful instrumentality in this effort.

If this far - reaching diplomatic and economic crackdown is successful, it will eventually mean an outright military blockade of Cuba by the Organization of American States.

Irrefutable Evidence — Incriminating documents from Castro henchmen are playing an important role in convincing Latin American leaders of the urgent need for OAS measures against him.

This indisputable evidence clearly spells out the extent and nature of Castro - financed subversive and spying activities throughout Latin America. In a number of instances these sinister operations are closely tied up with Russian and Red Chinese agents.

Cuban ambassadors and other accredited diplomats are working hand - in - glove with Iron Curtain "technicians" to overthrow governments and spread hatred of the U.S.

A graphic example of this is letters and reports sent to the Cuban Foreign Ministry by Ambassador Luis Ricardo Alonso, who was expelled from Peru after it broke relations with Castro.

In these documents Alonso relates in detail how he spent $30,000 last December for "propaganda and subversive activities"; gave $15,000 to the Peruvian Communist party for "reports concerning its work in defense of the Castro government"; and efforts to infiltrate the Peruvian army — wholly without results.

Explaining that failure, Alonso wrote, "The Peruvian army is a very disciplined force, with an officer corps of career men. There is great esprit de corps, with much respect for the officers among the troops."

However, conspiracies do occur among high - ranking officers. They are followers of Odría (former President Manuel Odría). These officers can serve our ends if we aid their efforts with funds and public demonstrations.

Alonso's shocking subversive activities are boldly related in a letter in which he tells of spending $30,000 in December for this purpose.

"In accordance with instructions received from the Minister of the Armed Forces, Comandante Raul Castro, I have been occupying myself directly with the organization of insurrectional groups in conjunction with the Communist party and APRA Rbelde (a pro - Castro group of the larger non - Communist APRA party) as well as with other friends of the left, all of whom are ready for anything in case the suspected imperialist invasion of Cuba takes place."

"I am absolutely convinced that the work we are carrying on is the most positive possible . . . I have been able to develop the entire plan drawn up in Havana. Peru must be considered as a center of attack against capitalism, given its geographic location, the economic, political and social conflict which we can intensify, and the tensions created by the agitation which exists between Peru and Ecuador because of the border problem."

"The technical advisers of the Soviet Union and Red China have great hopes for the work going on now in Peru. This is because we are not only attacking an oligarchy government that is in the service of the U.S., but also because we are unmasking APRA and assuming the revolutionary leadership of the students, workers and peasants in order to bind them wholly to Castro and Communism."

On Broadway —by Walter Winchell

Who, What, Where, When and Why???

What star of a Broadway hit musical spends most of his time between perfs drinking all the ers under any table and never shows it?

Didn't a disgruntled suitor (HB) catch his sweetly with a competitor in her posh place in the mid-60's? He took a unique brand of revenge. Filled her bathtub with jello. The plumbing job cost her $150.

Wasn't that some scene in a midtown eatery when a well known theatrical couple (radio-teeveether) went to war and she screamed: "If you beat me again, you (deleted by the editor) it will be the last time!"

Didn't Mr. President ignore some of his sources which are said to be better than the CIA's? Pres. Kennedy has traveled the world over and has his own pipelines. They contact him from troubled places daily. They gave him accurate info on the Cuban situation. But the Allen Dulles crowd reportedly "influenced" JFK to believe their reports.

Who's the ex-chorine at the Copa who flipped romantically over an arranger-conductor and wound up on a psychiatrist's divan carrying the heaviest of Torches?

Isn't it a fact that last week National Guard officers in New York City for the first time did not refer to the enemy as "the adversary." But called them "the communists"? And aren't they being trained right now to combat rioters?

Isn't it something the way Belgian U.N. delegation are ostracized by their former friends in the Delegate's Lounge at the U.N.? And what about look-alikes Adolf Eichmann and Cuban U.N. delegate Raul Roa?

Didn't the Chicago Boys have a meeting the other night to discuss Jimmy Hoffa's "genius plan" to get the Feds off his back? When he announced he would clear organized labor of communist influence. How about starting at Cape Canaveral? Where work stoppages happen regularly.

Why in the world did Dean Martin go for that teevee promotion spot for the SEP article about him? The cameraman had him look semi-loaded, puffy face, squinted orbs, hair mussed, unsexy.

And how about those teevee commercials for Palm Beach suits which show baseball star Ted Williams wearing a cravat? He never - never - never-never does.

Didjez see the classified advert in "Positions Wanted Female"? Went like this: "Dis- traught Parent has 17 year old genius-type daughter, college bound, wants a summer job at resort, doing tablewaiting, babysitting, tutoring, anything respectable, I think."

What about that medic who said people losing weight on "cranky diets" should not get it all back the day after they stop dieting? Cranky diets, he said, means drinking lemon juice, avoiding salt, eating ONLY bananas, drinking black coffee and drinking powdered diets. It's impossible, he added, for massage to take off pounds. Only the calories count.

"The technical advisers of the Soviet Union and Red China have great hopes for the work going on now in Peru. This is because we are not only attacking an oligarchy government that is in the service of the U.S., but also because we are unmasking APRA and assuming the revolutionary leadership of the students, workers and peasants in order to bind them wholly to Castro and Communism."

James Gibbs of England is credited with the invention of table tennis. He brought out the game between 1880 and 1890.

Scout, Explorers 'Selling' Cavalcade

NEARLY 4000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Delaware Valley Area Council have begun to sell tickets to the second Cavalcade of Scouting which will be held at the Blue Valley Farm Show Grounds on May 19 and 20.

The show will be highly diversified, and will feature skills of Scouting from Cubbing, through Scouting to Exploring. The heart of the show will be the Scouting Fair of 40 booths.

type exhibits in the fair building. The special exhibits will include "Pedro" the Boy's Life Burro and "Smoky" the bear. At the "Show-and-Tell" booth, persons will have a chance to try their hand at Scouting Skills.

Among the special events will be the Warren District "Olympics Tryouts" in preparation for participation in the Phillipsburg Centennial. A Council-wide Pinewood Derby for Cubs is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, as is the annual Silver Bugle Contest sponsored by the Brown-Lynch Post of the American Legion and the Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Stage Shows

Special stage shows will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights, featuring Cubs and Scouts.

John Schwarz, general chairman, reminded all Scouts that they can earn different pieces of Scout equipment every time they sell 10 tickets.

Strike Spreads On Buildings

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A spreading strike by men who operate heavy construction equipment is halting big building projects in southeastern Pennsylvania.

Robert Walsh, business manager of Local 542, International Union of Operating Engineers, said he has called strikes against 200 members of three contractors' associations.

The local, with 5,000 members, has authorized Walsh to call strikes against individual contractors as he sees fit.

The local represents men who work in both eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware. A contract expired on Monday and a new one was reached with employers in Delaware.

In eastern Pennsylvania, however, negotiations have been deadlocked by a work rules issue.

A management spokesman said that no offer will be made on wages, benefits and other matters until the union withdraws 100 proposed work rules changes.

Laurel Festival June 8-13

THE ANNUAL Laurel Blossom Festival will be held June 8 through 13, a spokesman for the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau announced yesterday.

Highlights of the 6-day event will be the crowning of the princess at ceremonies in Hawthorn Inn, June 10, at 3 p. m.

The festival assembly will be held June 9 at Pocono Manor and will be a benefit for the Junior Women's Club Welfare Fund. It will consist of a buffet supper from 7:30 to 9 p. m., dancing to two orchestras on the two terraces of The Inn and a fashion show.

The assembly attendance will be limited to 200 couples and will be by invitation only.

Tobyhanna Native Dies

FUNERAL services for Frank Starner, a native of Tobyhanna, were held yesterday at the Morrison Funeral Home in Butler, N. J.

Starner died Tuesday at his home 27 Spring St., in Butler, at the age of 73 following a long illness. They had moved to Butler about 35 years ago. He was a retired brakeman for the Susquehanna Valley railroad.

In addition to his wife, Carolyn Heller Starner, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Edwin Johnston of Butler and Mrs. Irene Terry of Unionville, N. Y.; two brothers, Benjamin Starner of Tannersville and Lester Starner of Moline, Ill., and by a sister, Miss Jennie Starner of Stroudsburg. He is also survived by six grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Bloom Lacks Fortitude—Scott

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—State Sen. William Z. Scott, R-Carbon, often mentioned as his party's candidate for governor in 1963, said Thursday night state Chairman George I. Bloom lacked fortitude in running the party.

Scott appeared at a meeting of Republican ward leaders and committeemen, and said Republicans in other sections of the state are disheartened by an intra-party feud in Philadelphia.

Scott said if the situation occurred in his home area, all interested parties would be placed in a locked room until a solution was reached, "and if that didn't work, maybe a few heads would be knocked together."

He was cheered when he said, "If our state chairman had any guts, he'd be down here knocking a few heads together . . ."

Heart trouble is more common among men than among women, except at ages 75 and over.

Information Of Woman Is Sought

A SEXTON, Pa., woman is attempting to locate an aunt who lived in Stroudsburg sometime before World War I.

In a letter to Robert S. Widmer, classified advertising manager of The Daily Record, Mrs. Lawrence J. Ritchey, said her aunt, Pansy Gazelle Fockler, lived at the home of Richard and Lish Toms in Foxville, Washington County, Md., before moving to Stroudsburg between 1901 and World War I.

Anyone having any information on the missing woman is asked to contact Widmer.

Bids Slated For Cresco Post Office

(Special to The Daily Record)

WASHINGTON—Rep. Francis E. Walter has been advised that the Post Office Department will advertise for bids for the leasing of space for the postal facility at Cresco.

The bids will call for a building containing 2,226 square feet of interior space, Walter said. The Post Office Department wants a 10-year term with four five-year renewal options.

Bids will be posted May 11 and close June 1.

West End Pupils Tour Monroe Spots

MORE than 60 children from the fourth grades of Chestnut Hill and Polk Township Elementary Schools recently toured the county seat and the East Stroudsburg State College.

The children toured the courthouse, offices, the Monroe County Jail, Stroud Mansion, Monroe County Historical Society, The Daily Record and the library of East Stroudsburg State College.

The tour was in connection with a unit in social studies they are presently studying in school.

Mrs. Grace Singer and Mrs. Amelia Martin, teachers in the two schools, accompanied the children on the tour.

Dr. Magann At Parley

SOME 5,000 school board members including Dr. W. Edmund Magann, Barrett Twp., of Pocono Mt. Joint Schools, are meeting in Philadelphia for the annual three-day convention of the National School Boards Association.

Theme of this year's meeting is "School Boards Face National Issues" and speakers are slated to cover the range of school problems from getting enough good teachers to providing the best possible curriculum and how to pay the increasing school costs.

E-Burg Board Ups Millages Of Taxes

EAST Stroudsburg Borough School Board has adopted a 1961-62 budget calling for expenditures of $608,911.07 and increasing both real estate and occupation tax millages.

The property tax will be increased five mills and the occupation tax one and one-half mills. The per capita tax remains the same as last year.

The increases in millage, the board said, are necessary because of increased maintenance of the new building, additional employees, increased cost of transportation, rental to the school authority for retirement of bonds and higher salaries demanded by teachers.

Calls For Income

The budget calls for income of $350,400 from real estate taxes, $41,250 from occupation tax and $37,430 from the $10 per capita levy. Also included in the income is $283,645.33 in state subsidies.

Expense items listed include $10,889 for administration; $2,800 for special instruction; $2,676 for auxiliary playground support; $337,381.81 for fixed charges; $104,607.06 for debt service; $10,566.20 for capital outlay, and a $30,000 deficit from the 1960-61 school year.

If collections and expenses go as planned the district will have an unexpended balance of $5,232.66 on June 30, 1962.

Civil War Theme Of Historians

SEVERAL programs on Civil War themes marked the 19th annual convention in Harrisburg of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians which opened yesterday at Penn Harris Hotel. The event will conclude today.

Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg, associate professor of social studies at East Stroudsburg State College and chairman of the state advisory council to the federation, presided at the affair.

Addresses will be delivered by Dr. Sumberg and Dr. S. W. Higginbotham, of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. Dr. Higginbotham will speak on the subject, "Charles C. McCormick, a Pennsylvanian in the Army of the Cumberland."

127 Chapters

The annual roll call of the 127 chapters and nomination of candidates for state offices took place yesterday. The election will take place this morning. It will be followed by the annual convention luncheon at the hotel and the address by Dr. Higginbotham.

Local chapters which have registered for the convention are from Stroud Union High School, East Stroudsburg Joint Area High School, Bangor High, Pen Argyl High School, and Delaware Valley Junior-Senior H. S., Milford.

Fish Pollution Barometer

HARRISBURG (AP)—Albert M. Day, executive director of the State Fish Commission, said Friday fish are a good barometer of the amount of stream pollution.

"Fish require good water," Day told the Pennsylvania Clean Streams and Clean Air Conference.

"In fact, they require the same kind of water that we humans want for drinking, for swimming and for profitable industry," he added.

Day said the fish can't live in waters loaded with acid mine drainage, poisonous industrial chemicals or with the human wastes from towns and cities.

"When fish die because of polluted waters people can't drink it, swim in it or use it profitably in industry either," he said.

Police Reserve To Hear Baujan

JOHN Baujan, assistant chief of police, Stroudsburg, will be the main speaker at the meeting of the Monroe Police Reserve Monday at 7 p. m. in the American Legion Home, East Stroudsburg.

Baujan will speak on the subject, "Safe Handling of Firearms by Police Officers."

In other business four new members will be sworn in the organization.

From East Stroudsburg were: Raymond Treible, second cornet; Susan Fatzinger, first bassoon; James Albert, oboe; and William Stine, bass.

From Stroud Union were: Dyonne Ace, second bassoon; Kathy Putman, bass clarinet; Mary Jane Serfass, French horn; and Sandra Tretheway, saxophone.

Ford Motor Co. Shows Profit

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. yesterday reported first quarter earnings of $76.2 million, equal to $1.39 per share, compared with $143.1 million, or $2.61 a share, in the first quarter of 1960.

Ford was the last of the five auto manufacturers to announce its quarterly figures and the third of the five to show a profit.

Earlier, General Motors had reported a net of $188 million, off $136 million from a year ago and its smallest first quarter profit in eight years. American Motors showed a profit of $2.2 million against $14.4 million a year ago.

Chrysler lost $21.9 million and Studebaker-Packard was $6.5 million in the red.

Accident Victims 'Guarded'

TWO victims of automobile accidents last week were reported yesterday by a spokesman of the Monroe County General Hospital "still in a guarded condition."

John Tanchym, 42, of Scranton, who suffered head injuries in a head-on crash, April 28, on Route 611 which claimed the lives of two Monroe County people, is still guarded.

The other man, Howard J. Oyer, 52, of East Bangor RD, was admitted to the hospital Wednesday night after he suffered insulin shock and lost control of his car and crashed into a tree. He received chest injuries and a cut lip.

Killed as a result of the Route 611 crash were Llewellyn Andre, 49, Stroudsburg RD 3, and Mrs. Anna L. Evans, 48, of 878 White St., Stroudsburg, who was a passenger in the car at the time of the accident.

West End Lions Fulfill Pledge To Area Home Unit

THE WEST END Lions Club has fulfilled its pledge made in 1958 to contribute $600 to the Monroe County Home Association. The final gift of $200 was made this week by check.

The promise was originally started in November, 1958, after Dr. C. W. Dupee and Atty. Arlington W. Williams spoke at a board of directors' meeting. The two guests told of the home's operation and its many purposes in serving the county. The talks, it was reported, did much to influence the final vote for approval. President at the time was Leon F. Keller.

In 1959 the first gift of $200 was presented to the home. The second was made last year.

Present Officers

The present officers of the club are William H. Kresge, president; John Wernett, secretary, and Carl Kresge, treasurer.

Carl Kresge has served as club treasurer since the organization was formulated in 1948. Wernett also has served since that time with the exception of two years.

New Chess Champion

JAMES HEATHERINGTON of East Stroudsburg became Stroudsburg Chess Club champion Thursday by defeating Harold James by winning the fourth of a best-of-seven series.

James had held the championship since Joseph Kushner, who won the title soon after the club organized, resigned and moved to Indiana.

James got some measure of revenge by defeating Earl Weiss. Jacob Conley and William P. Deering played two games, each winning one. Deering lost two games to Louis Mondelle. Mondelle then won one and lost two to A. J. Vlossak and Conley took two out of three from Vlossak.

Synod Adopts Constitution

MORE than 130 delegates opened the 22nd annual Lehigh Synod of the United Church of Christ in St. Mark's Church, Easton, Thursday.

The delegates voted 84-2 to adopt the constitution as approved by the General Synod of the UCC. The Lehigh Synod was the first to accept the constitution.

The 133 delegates at the synod came from 73 churches in Monroe, Northampton, Carbon, Bucks Counties and part of Lehigh County and Oxford, N. J.

Star Of Silent Screen Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Anita Stewart, a top favorite of the silent screen and former wife of the scion of one of the country's wealthiest families, died yesterday.

The actress was found unconscious in the bedroom of her Beverly Hills home by her sister, Lucille Stewart.

The coroner's office said an autopsy would be needed to determine cause of death.

The sister gave the actress' age as 59, but official records show she was 65.

The two sisters had been living together since the actress' divorce from George Peabody Converse, New York millionaire and socialite, 14 years ago. Converse was the son of a former president of U. S. Steel.

Deadline For Absentee Ballots

HARRISBURG (AP)—Tuesday is the deadline for applications for civilian absentee ballots for the primary and special elections that will be held May 16.

Civilians who are sick and those who will be away from home on election day must have their applications in to the county elections boards by that time.

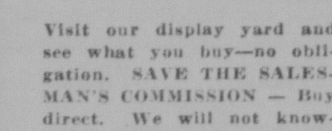

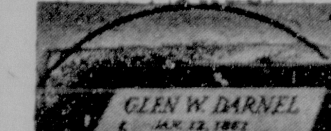

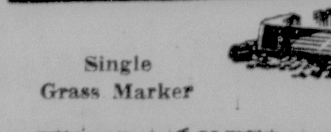

Servicemen applying for absentee ballots need only to get their applications in to the board in time for the ballots to be sent to them before the election.

On The Corner

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

The setting of the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church may have implemented Rev. Charles Park's text more than he realized from his post on the high pulpit yesterday. The church itself is a masterpiece of restoration with the rag carpets, the oil lamps converted to electricity so skillfully that the flame seems to flicker.

Even the windows are filled with wavy glass so typical of the period of more than 100 years ago. But it was the feeling more than the details which gave strength to his comparison with the faith of our fathers.

Within those walls you could feel generations of worshippers to whom truth was absolute, the will of God clear and unmistakable, and the line between right and wrong drawn sharply. Secure within the pews with their little doors to keep out the drafts, the atmosphere of certainty in an ordered universe was so tangible that you could feel yourself relax from the strain of internal debate.

As a matter of fact, even today's worshippers in that church might find it difficult to give in all the way to the present secular tendency to regard the world and this life as the only reality.

Looking out at the trees and the sky, wavering through the old window panes like a landscape under water, there were the gravestones, the older ones leaning companionably toward each other, an unescapable reminder that in the midst of life we are in death.

That interval seemed a million away from space flight, but that 15-minute flight through space was an everybody's minds throughout the luncheon at Sunnybrook which preceded the service. Most people agreed it wasn't the 15 minutes they'd have minded as much as the three hours, to be strapped in the capsule on his back waiting for the blast-off.

And we all came back to the space shot after the meeting, since it is the sort of thing which pricks the imagination. No one can resist wondering how he would have felt in the same place.

But one thing I'm sure of—I'd have felt more at home in a world where there was kerene instead of electricity in those church scenes, where window glass wavered because they didn't know how to make it clear instead of on purpose, and where my only hope of reaching heaven was by way of the graveyard outside.

Wesleyan Guild To Dramatize Year's Theme

Secularism, Communism Both Deny God, Rector Warns Church Women

Western secularism and world Communism are brothers with the same mothers, of different fathers, Rev. Charles A. Park charged at the May Fellowship meeting of the Monroe County Council of Churchwomen; Both represent a rebellion against God, he said.

What Communists have achieved by intent, the Christian world has achieved by bungling and lack of responsibility on the part of Christians, was the burden of his theme, "The Church — Free and Responsible."

Apart from the obvious difference of economic and political tyranny how does the Christian Church fare differently here, he asked.

In Russia, the sermons are censored and no criticism is permitted; here storms of criticism arise when ministers speak out from the pulpit. Communism isolates Christians from the rest of mankind and forbids propagation of the faith outside of the church building; in America, Christians are embarrassed to speak of religion and are isolated by the fact that secularism holds religion to be a private and personal thing.

Sunday worship is permitted in Russia, but stores, business, sports events, political rallies go on as usual; in America a small minority of Christians attend church each Sunday.

Religion is forbidden to be taught in the schools in Russia; and the U. S. Supreme court has perverted the intention of the Constitution for freedom of religion to freedom from religion, he charged.

The rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Stroudsburg, had taken his text from the Book of Common Prayer in the fifth century, and compared the worlds of then and now.

In the fifth century, he pointed out, the old gods were dying and confusion reigned in the flux of new ideas. Externally, the barbarians were pressing down from what is now Russia. There was civil corruption, inflation, unemployment and the dole in public affairs and uncertainty, fear, and confusion in private affairs.

Now, he pointed out, there is no longer a prevailing belief in a Creator, religion is no longer respected as being intellectually sound. In the specialization of functions, people have no communal body of feeling except in the most superficial sense.

"The Jude-Christian heritage is being ignored in education," he said, "and we are living on the spiritual resources of our parents and grandparents and are rapidly approaching bankruptcy and decadence."

"We face for the first time a clear choice: We can become more than human by obeying God or less than human by denying Him. Materialism, secularism, Communism, Nazism are varying degrees of the denial of God."

"We are all against Communism, but what are we for?" he challenged.

Two things he urged: Acknowledgment that this is God's world, not Russia's or the United States'; and constant prayer that God's will be done in that world by those committed to him.

The message came as part of the World Fellowship day in which all 18 of the member church societies contributed a part. It began with a luncheon at Sunnybrook Camp. Mrs. Claude Leister, county president, introduced her officers and committee chairmen who gave brief reports.

Mrs. Wendell Wicks and Mrs. Stanley Hallett were co-chairmen of the day's events. Mrs. John Baymor was soloist.

Portland WSCS Meeting At Gardners

Portland — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Gardner this week with Miss Grace Engler and Miss Edith Emery as hostesses.

Wedding In Denmark Is Announced

Portland — Miss Hanne Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henning Anderson of Hanerholm, Denmark, and Robert Shumaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shumaker, Portland, were married at Humelebak, Denmark on March 20, 1961, at 11 o'clock Denmark time.

The ceremony was performed in the Lutheran Church. The bride wore a gown of net and chiffon. Her sister was matron of honor and her brother-in-law was best man.

They will reside at New Rochelle, N.Y. Mr. Shumaker is employed in New York City.

The Wyckoff Shopper

"the friendly store"

A.B. Wyckoff

POCONO MTS. CRESCO, PA.

I have not mentioned, I am sure, the new addition to my office wall . . . a very much appreciated citation from the Eastern Chapter of Hadassah showing that a gift was made, in my name, to the National Youth Aliyah Committee, to aid the work for young people in Israel.

I am very grateful to the Eastern chapter for taking this way of saying, "Thank you" for my book reviews of last month. Since Wyckoff's and I have participated in the annual show of Israeli Fashions (this year on Wednesday, June 21st at Tamiment) I am deeply interested in Israel, and the problems of its many people of such varied background. I feel that any help given this new nation serves men and women of all types of heritage from all around the world, and this seems to be a most worthy endeavor.

Now, at last, every woman can wear her Birthday Suit proudly and in the best society. If this sounds rather stunning, hold tight and don't be shocked. The Birthday Suit is actually a new Lycra combination, with an alternate name of Twin Skin. Twin Skin is cool . . . comfortable . . . and figure controlling, yet priced at a casual 10.95.

Betty Colvin tells me the corset department also offers one of the most attractive shipments of bras we've ever had at Wyckoff's, combining Lycra and lace. Short bras are 3.95 . . . long lines, 7.95.

For the mature woman, Betty suggests the Vanity Combination of drip dry dacron, which fit flatteringly and are ideally suited to the fuller figure. These are 8.99, 12.99 and 15.00.

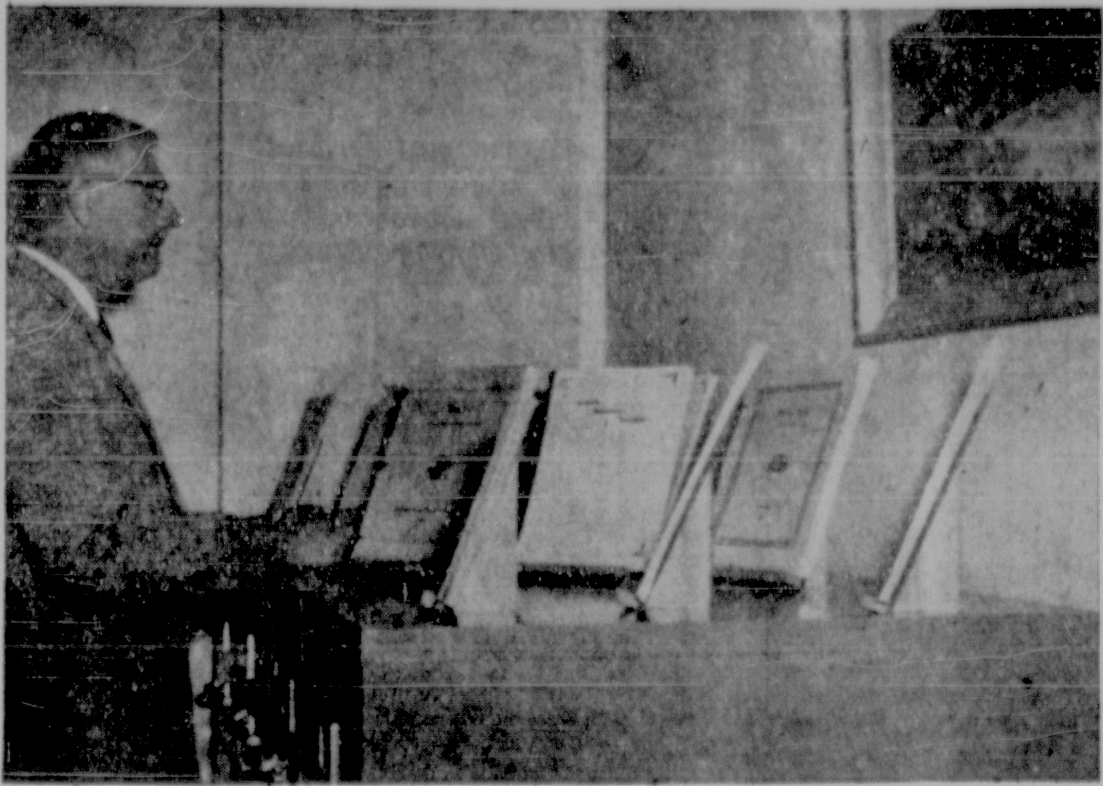

Perhaps the most sensational news right now from our corset department is the new Formfit bra which is a plastic mold, lavishly lace trimmed, to be worn under one's choicest garments, or under a bathing suit. It's "plastically perfect" at 5.95.

The mail brings invitations: to the 17th birthday party and fashion show of Seventeen Magazine on Friday, June 9th in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria; to a luau on Tuesday, May 9th, at the home of Fran Barthold; and reminders of several previous engagements: a fashion show which will feature Home-makers Day (of Margaret MacLaren's home extension sewing groups) on Wednesday, May 10th; a Mother's Day talk at the Moravian Church of Canadensis on Sunday, May 14th; a talk before the Monroe County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday, May 15th, and a fashion show fitting that evening for the women of Hope, N.J.; the show at Hope on May 17th in the evening and, at 12:30 the same day, a talk before a luncheon meeting of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church women. All things considered, why do I ever think—even for a moment—that life is dull?

I have not mentioned in the columns, I am sure, what a delightful dinner we of Wyckoff's office personnel had at Heddy's Hawaiian Rom in honor of Lynn Werkheiser, who will be married Mother's Day. Rudy, the genial proprietor of this excellent restaurant, had given us a choice of ever so many entrees, and I've never eaten quite so much so deliciously prepared for 2.75. He delighted Lynn to, by presenting her with an Hawaiian love cup (a delicious, fruity drink in a pineapple) to take home and share with Dick.

We at Wyckoff's feel we have a rather proprietary interest in Heddy's, because most of the work was done by our hotel contract department. Last year the restaurant opened with the very latest in equipment, as well as the nicest possible setting our boys could devise. And Rudy's investment paid off to standing room only, many times . . . so this year he added a big, new room decorated entirely in the Hawaiian tradition. Wyckoff's again did most of the work . . . and we are prouder than punch. Rudy proves one thing, I think: when a restaurant has atmosphere, pleasant help, the best equipment available, AND fine food, crowds will flock to the door. See for yourself some evening.

CHARTING COURSE — Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools, looks at collection of curriculum guide which he and his staff developed as a blueprint for education in both elementary and secondary schools of the jointure. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Secor Regards Education As Pay-As-You-Go Plan

(This is the first in a series of two articles explaining the curriculum guides being used by all the schools in the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure. Developed by school personnel, the guides provide scope and sequence in all the grades, and are considered of inestimable benefit for both teacher and pupil.)

By PAT WILLIAMS

"THERE'S NO welfare program in education," emphasized Supervising Principal Carl T. Secor during the curriculum discussion in his new office at the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School.

Inasmuch as the student receives only as much knowledge as the effort and interest he shows, education is a pay-as-you-go plan. To make this plan pay off in greater numbers, a curriculum guide was devised by the administration and teachers of the jointure to provide scope and sequence in all the grades.

Beginning in kindergarten and continuing through the senior year of high school, and including both the high and low levels of learning, the guide is a blueprint for education.

Curriculum guides are composed of a "brainstorming" session between administration, department heads and teachers, with one booklet for each subject and each level of education.

Correlation of subject matter includes audio-visual teaching aids, field trips and lectures by various representatives of specific areas.

The interrelationship of the courses is tied to the educational philosophy of developing creativity. The thread of learning is then woven into the cloth of education.

Each child in the same grade is receiving the same material at a given time. Should a student change schools within the jointure, he is only to make new friends, as his educational background is the same as that of his new classmates.

Considering the learning capacity of the children of today, this guide focuses attention on the gifted child and the retarded child as well as the average, to enable each student to realize his potential.

New material, information and suggestions are added to the guide as needed. Each guide is printed with addendum to carry notes and additional information.

"There is only one thing we're in business for: to educate children."

Along that line of reasoning, Secor, the principals, the department heads and all the teachers have worked on this plan for three years to bring it up to date.

Information Disseminated

In scientific areas, information is disseminated by the Science Advisory Committee at its monthly meetings. This is added to the course of study. Specialists in the fields of physics, chemistry and biology—well known men in the community—give lectures to the classes.

Language courses are being offered to the students in the eighth grade and, it is hoped by the staff, will be offered earlier as the course becomes available.

The courses now being used in scope and sequence running from kindergarten through the senior year include mathematics, social studies, science, foreign languages, language arts, physical education, art and music. For the secondary curriculum all have been completed. Science studies are being revised and additions made.

The basic design behind this group effort on the part of the teaching and advisory staff is to prepare the students for life, and carry beyond graduation into higher education or the private lives of the individual.

Breakdown Roads Aid

THE breakdown of the $11,000,000 approved by the House of Representatives this week to complete the 41,000-mile interstate highway system by 1972, shows these authorizations for fiscal years starting in 1963:

1963	$2,400,000,000
1964	2,600,000,000
1965	2,700,000,000
1966	2,800,000,000
1967	2,800,000,000
1968	2,900,000,000
1969	3,000,000,000
1970	3,000,000,000
1971	2,885,000,000

The allocations of funds to the states would be made from appropriations resulting from these authorizations.

Explorers To Hold Conference

THE TEN Explorer units of the Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold their first regional Explorer Delegate Conference at Pennsylvania State University, University Park, July 5-6-7-8.

Richard T. Wentz of Easton, chairman of the Council's Explorer Cabinet said that he feels the coming Explorer conference will stimulate the thousands of Explorers who participate. They will take home and share with fellow Explorers new ideas and successful techniques of post operation, he added.

Nearly 40,000 Explorers will sit down at twelve regional Explorer delegate conferences to exchange ideas. They want most of all to learn how best to achieve their purposes as Explorers and how best to build, serve, and achieve for their communities.

The Explorers themselves organized, planned, and are financing the conference.

Hebert Adds 67; Holds Vegas Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jay Hebert whacked out another sub-par round of golf Friday—a five-under-par 67 — to hang onto the lead at the midway mark of the $52,000 Tournament of Champions. Coupled with his blistering 66 in the first round, the 38-year-old

Mays' Long Run Beats Phils 4-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Willie Mays scored from first base on a routine single in the third inning Friday night and it proved the winning run as the San Francisco Giants scored a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Mays, after walking, raced to third on Orlando Cepeda's line drive single to Bobby Gene Smith in left field and the kept right on going home before the astonished Phillies even knew what was happening.

It was the Giants' ninth victory in their last 12 games and increased their National League lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates to two full games.

Track Meet Planned For S. U. Schools

The elementary schools of the Stroud Union School District will hold a track and field meet Tuesday, May 9, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. on the high school athletic field.

This meet will be part of a National Track and Field Project—Operation Fitness-U.S.A., which was started last year by the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation (AAHPER) and will continue through 1961. The project strikes at the heart of all movement and basic activity and seeks to multiply participation of both boys and girls across the nation.

During its first year, more than 15 million youth took part in track and field clinics and meets. The target for 1961 is 22 million youth.

Six participants (3 girls and 3 boys) will be chosen in each of the upper elementary grades—4, 5, 6. There will be a total of 33 track and field events.

Award certificates provided by AAHPER will be given to first through fifth places. Embroidered emblems will be given to all first place winners in addition to the certificates.

Events List

Some of the events are dashes, broad jumping, high jumping, distance throws, throws for accuracy and co-ed relays.

ESSC Net Team Loses

BURT REESE ran his unbeaten singles streak to five straight but the East Stroudsburg State College tennis team lost 5-4 to New Platz (N.Y.) Friday at College Hill.

Bill Umschweiler and Marty Altshuler were the only other Warriors to post singles wins. Umschweiler and Altshuler also scored a doubles point.

It was the second loss in five matches for East Stroudsburg.

Floyd Won't Fight Machen, Henry Cooper

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson said Friday he would not fight either Eddie Machen or Henry Cooper "this year but left the door open to all the other top contenders with the exception of Sonny Liston."

"Not until next year," said the champion, of Liston. "I read in the papers where he said he has got 1-1 of some of the people around him. But by next year he should be even cleaner."

Patterson reiterated his statements in Miami Beach last March that his next defense would be provided by Tom Bolan, who now heads Championship Sports, Inc.

"At first I thought I could advance my prestige by fighting Machen or Cooper," said Patterson. "I did want my next fight to be in New York. But I guess it won't be now. There is only one fighter to fight in New York and that is Liston."

Patterson said he would fight any of the other rated contenders listed by Ring magazine.

Ring rates the challengers in this order: Sonny Liston, Eddie Machen, Zora Folley, Henry Cooper, Ingemar Johansson, George Chuvalo, Alex Miteff, Mike DeJohn, Tom McInerney and Robert Cieroux.

Patterson indicated he was in no great hurry to pick an opponent for a September fight although he expects to start boxing in a week and a half.

Deskus Has One-Hitter But Loses

HAWLEY — Jordan Deskus pitched a one hitter for Southern Wayne High School Friday but lost a 7-1 decision to Wallenpaupack in the opening of the Wayne County Baseball League.

Deskus was tagged for seven unearned runs. He hurt himself by giving up 12 walks.

Southern Wayne collected four hits off the offerings of winner Tom Burdick.

Bill Cuccherini of Southern Wayne, collected the only extra-base hit in the game, a double.

Twins Beat Boston To Snap String

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's Jack Kralick turned in another sterling pitching performance Friday, stopping Boston 5-1 on a six-hitter.

The crafty southpaw fanned six in winning his second straight game, the victory snapped Minnesota's three-game losing streak.

The Twins jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the second and were never headed, Boston starter and loser Tom Brewer walked the first three batters and Harmon Killebrew scored when Billy Gardner hit into a double play.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers exploded for 15 base hits and took advantage of five Pittsburgh Pirate errors Friday night, overpowering the defending world champions 10-0 and Dodger starter and winner Johnny Podres was twirling a nifty six-hit shutout when he had to be lifted at the start of the seventh inning because of a pain in his left forearm. A Dodger spokesman said the southpaw the arm while batting in the fifth.

Dick Farrell, acquired Thursday in a trade with the Phillies, finished the contest, yielding only one hit.

Friend, who went into the contest with a 4-0 record, hurled 3 2/3 innings before being knocked out of the box. He gave up seven runs and eight hits.

Carry Back Still Top Pick At 5-2

By JOHN CHANDLER Associated Press Sports Writer LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The rain poured on Louisville Friday as 15 horses awaited the call for the 87th Kentucky Derby.

Strangely enough, not one of the trainers with the leading contenders seemed concerned about the prospect for an off track at Churchill Downs.

Carry Back remained the 5-2 choice for the mile and one-quarter romp, and the steady rain that may taper off into showers by Saturday won't hurt his chances off past performances.

Mrs. Katherine Price's Florida-bred colt is the only one of the 15 slated to start that is labeled a "superior" mud runner. Carry Back scored two of his most important victories on a sloppy track, the Garden State Stakes last October and the Florida Derby April 1.

No Mud Ratings

Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, beaten by a head in the Florida Derby, is listed as a good muddler. Crozier broke the Churchill Downs' track record for the mile Tuesday in winning the Derby Trial. The track was dry and fast.

Robert Lehman's Ambipose, second by 3 1/2 lengths in the Garden State, carries a fair mud-running label. So do the Alberta Ranches' Four-and-Twenty, hero of the Santa Anita Derby; Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster, who upset Carry Back in the Wood Memorial; the Jacnot Stable's Light Talk, and J. Graham Brown's On His Mallet.

Crozier A Muddler

Bass Clef, owned by Mrs. Vera Smith and winner of the Louisi ana Derby and Emil A. Dust's Dearborn are good mud operators. There are no mud ratings for the others—Alberta Ranches Fluterby, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller, Bräe Burn Farm's Jay Fox, Eastwood Stable's Loy al Son, Wilbur Clark and William Radovick's Ronnie's Ace, and Jacob Sher's Sherkuck.

"Crozier doesn't have to carry his kind of track around with him," said trainer Chuck Parke. The colt is the 3-1 second choice.

Vance Longden, trainer of Fluterby and Four-and-Twenty, was all smiles. "As far as I'm concerned, it can rain all day."

Post time is 4:30 p.m. EST with television and radio (CBS) going on the network at 4:15. The weatherman, who said the sun might pop out between showers, expected the afternoon temperature to be around 72 degrees.

With 15 going postward, the purse will gross $163,000, with the second richest return to the winner—$120,500.

Pococono Bow Group Shoots

POCONO Archery Assn. will compete in a Tri-County Conference shoot at the West Penn Range, near Allentown Sunday.

THIRTY-SEVEN YEAR WAIT—East Stroudsburg State College won the Pennsylvania State College Mile Relay at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia last weekend, for the first time since 1923. The Warriors time was only 1.8 seconds off the record for the event. Members of the winning quartet were: From the left—Joe Galizio, Lou Murdock, Art Wilson and Russ Hopewell.

Hopewell Sets Broad Jump Record But Warriors Lose

RUSS Hopewell established a school broad jump of 23' 4 1/2" but it was enough to prevent Bloomsburg State from whipping East Stroudsburg State College 81-50 in a dual track meet at College Hill Friday.

Hopewell's jump at first was believed to be 24' 3" but a check of the record cards used in each event showed the 23' 4 1/2" figure.

East Stroudsburg scored only four firsts in the meet and two of the victories were by Hopewell, who also won the high jump. Hopewell's leap in the broad jump erases the mark of 23' 2 1/2" he set last year against West Chester.

Lowie Wins Vault

Jim Lowe won the pole vault for the Warriors and the Warriors mile relay team won its event. The relay team, fresh from a victory in the Penn Relays, turned in a 3:35.6 clocking, well below its time in the Philadelphia races. But the team was without Lou Murdock, who was out with the flu.

Terry Engleman scored three of Blooms first and speedster Ed Cocco and Tom Pfeffer also won two events.

Engleman won the 880, mile and two mile and was challenged only in the 880. East Stroudsburg's Joe Galizio finished only a few feet behind Engleman in the 880 and might have caught the Bloom runner with an earlier kick.

Cocco, a fullback on the Bloom football team turned in a 09.9 clocking in the 100-yard dash, and was timed in 22.3 in the 220-yard dash. Pfeffer took both the high and low hurdles. The loss was the third in five meets for the Warriors.

Miss Universe Pageant

THE "MISS Universe Beauty Pageant," a special 90-minute program climaxed by the selection of Miss Universe 1961, will be broadcast live from Miami Beach, Fla., Saturday, July 15 (10-11:30 P.M.) on the CBS Television Network.

Railroad Discussion

WHAT IS happening to American railroads and the passengers that ride and depend upon them? Why are U. S. railroads in serious trouble? Why have they suffered such a decline? Is there still a key role the railroad can play in America's future? These questions will be explored in the final "NBC White Paper" of the season on the NBC-TV Network Tuesday, May 23 (10-11 p.m.) The topic is: "Railroads: End of the Line?"

THEY'RE OFF!—One of the top thrills of the sporting year, the 87th running of the Kentucky Derby at historic Churchill Downs in Louisville, will be televised exclusively on the CBS Television Network today (5:15-5:45 p.m.).

Easton Man Named Head Of Bakers

JOHN F. Schabile, president of Schabile's Bakery, Easton, Pa., was named president of Quality Bakers of America Cooperative, Inc.—the baking industry's largest association of independent-wholesale bakers.

Schabile's appointment by the Cooperative's Board of Directors fills a vacancy caused by the recent passing of the association's former president, the late Joseph P. Duchaine, of New Bedford, Mass.

Quality Bakers of America Cooperative, Inc., member-bakeries located in 37 of the United States, in Canada and in Bermuda do an annual volume in excess of $340,000,000.

Effort Man Schooled In Insurance

LLOYD D. Mackes, Nationwide Insurance Co. representative, located in Effort, was one of 40 agents who attended the group insurance training program conducted by his company at Allentown.

The program was one of a series of training courses conducted by the company.

Mackes had qualified to attend the program which covered procedures, practices and coverages relative to Nationwide's new student accident, student football, athletic accident and volunteer fire programs.

Periodically, Mackes attends other training programs which are designed to help render better service to his policyholders.

Plaque Honoring Pennsylvanians Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plaque in the Capitol honoring Pennsylvanians as first defenders of the union in the Civil War was proposed in a resolution introduced yesterday by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa.

Walter described the first defenders as the first northern troops to reach Washington in response to President Abraham Lincoln's call.

The Pennsylvanians came from Allentown, Reading, Pottsville and Lewisport and were sworn into federal service April 15, 1861. They arrived in Washington three days later.

JOHN SCHABILE was named new president of Quality Bakers of America Cooperative Inc. He is head of Schabile's Bakery of Easton.

American Store Sales Sets New Record, Figures Show

SALES of American Stores Co. for the fiscal year ended April 1, 1961 totaled $1,011,489,370.68, according to the announcement of Paul J. Cupp, president of the company. This is a new sales record for the fourth largest food chain which operates 789 Acme Markets in seven heavily populated eastern states and 51 recently acquired Alpha Beta Acme Markets in Southern California.

The sales which topped a billion dollars for the first time represent an increase of $43,616,250.01 or 4.5 percent greater than for the corresponding period a year ago. Both years' figures have been adjusted for the Alpha Beta sales.

In making the announcement, Cupp said, "It is gratifying to reach a goal and our billion dollar objective toward which we have been working, has now been achieved. With the capable staff of people who are the American Stores Co. and who have worked together to establish this sales record, continuing in their spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation, I am confident that the second billion dollars of sales will be recorded in much less time than it took to achieve the first billion."

American Stores Co. is the only company headquartered in Philadelphia currently reporting sales in excess of a billion dollars.

Moore Completes Course In Basic Retail Selling

THOMAS Moore of Raymond, Pa., completed a special Basic Retail Selling course at Ford Motor Co.'s New York Marketing Institute at Hackensack, N.J.

The course is one of 11 specialized courses currently offered by the company to Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers and their personnel, designed to keep them abreast of the latest proved sales and management techniques.

The New York Ford Marketing Institute here is one of three such schools in the United States operated by Ford Motor Co. All Institute instructors are experienced in dealer-customer relations and each is a dealer trained specialist in one or more phases of dealership operations. "Every man who leaves our Ford Marketing Institute takes with him the latest in business knowledge and sales techniques, and a new awareness of his responsibility to give his customers the finest possible service," Mr. Blaskovich said.

Japanese Defense

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's defense agency will send a 30-man team to the United States late this year for training in the use of sea-to-air Tartar missiles. Plans are to build two destroyers to carry the U.S.-made missiles.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—If you have less to do today, do not by this token waste valuable time and talents. If leisure hours are wisely spent (and real relaxing is included), we feel, do.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Going to strong Venus aspect tomorrow, today's general influence offer fresh impetus, renewed assistance for you who remain sturdy, steady, and don't cut corners too short.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Vitality and versatility evident in this sign can reap unusual gains if directed thoughtfully, under safe control. You can inspire others, but watch that energy.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—The combination of planetary aspects show stress, observance of rules, regulations to benefit the whole, remain composed, and allowing something to upset attitude or patience, especially of others. Bring your wit out front, hold down nerves.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Some qualities at better on certain people than on others: some handle their assets better. You can make or break today with attitude, speech, everyday actions. On whole, it's up to you.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Whatever today rightly demands, if you take all in proper order, remain composed, and allowing something to upset attitude or patience, especially of others. Bring your wit out front, hold down nerves.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Assign this day whatever the right plan and activities, considering true needs, due dates. Determine not to change the order by demands of others, except where you feel it just.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Jupiter's strong favorable configuration sponsors magnanimous action, enterprising activity that does not overstep limits. Clear away cobwebs of vagueness, a talent of others, except where you feel it just.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Planet Saturn's aspect advises against too quick decisions, and those not based on true or sufficient facts. Keep your dignity and thoughtful judgment intact.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Don't let important offerings slip by because you "are busy." Make changes, you'll reward working sign has given the world many of its most constructive citizens.

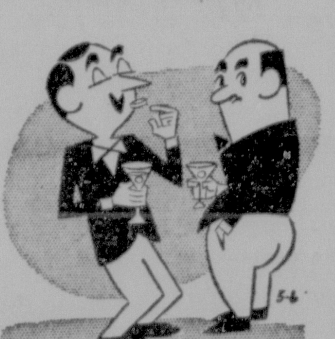

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Better-than-average opportunity to gain a new foothold in field, pastime, or with a desired association. Some attractions to avoid, some new areas for your interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are of the personable, harmonious, loving, roundly effed, Taurus, the Bull. And remember, that animal is a noble one, powerful and serene, yet can be provoked into blazing action. # Negotiators Meet On Laotian Truce

HIN HEUP, Laos (AP)—Military negotiators for the Lao war-torn factions held the first major meeting to work out details of a cease-fire but were unable to agree even on a site for future talks.

Political leaders in Vientiane at the same time proposed that talks begin Saturday in the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Presumably they would be top-level negotiations on forming a coalition government.

The government pointedly ignored rebel proposals that political questions be discussed on the front. Only a military team, led by Brig. Gen. Sing Rathanasamay, was sent Friday to discuss matters relating to Wednesday's cease-fire, such as armistice lines.

The negotiators, six royal officers and six sent by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels and ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma's self-styled neutralists, met in an abandoned house on the north bank of the Nam Lik River, which runs through Hin Heup, in no man's land 35 miles north of Vientiane, the administrative capital.

In London, the British Foreign Office announced Britain and the Soviet Union have agreed an international control commission will go to Laos in the near future to supervise the truce. The two powers, as co-chairmen of the 1961 Geneva conference, control the commission.

Prime Minister Nehru of India said in New Delhi, however, he had received no word on when the commission will leave India for Laos.

Minimum Wage Bill Now Law

By GARDNER L. BRIDGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed the bill raising the minimum wage Friday.

He said the act gave him great satisfaction but added that "this does not finish the job." He predicted "greater gains in the months and years to come."

With the President's signature, the new law will take effect in 120 days.

It extends the wage-hour act to 3,624,000 additional workers, mostly in retail and service jobs, and raises the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.25 by 1963.

The increase will be in two steps. On the effective date of the new law the minimum will rise to $1.15 an hour. This will mean an increase for an estimated 1.9 million of the 23.9 million workers already covered.

The $1.25 minimum will take effect two years later, bringing an increase to about 1.1 million additional workers.

For the newly covered workers, the minimum will remain at $1 an hour for the first three years. Starting in the fourth year it will rise to $1.15 and go to $1.25 in the fifth year.

The initial $1 minimum is expected to mean an increase for 663,000 of the 3.62 million newly covered workers. These workers will not become entitled to overtime pay until the third year.

4 Children, Parents Die In Fire

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A family of six, including four small children, perished Friday in a fire that engulfed their newly purchased two-story brick dwelling in Pittsburgh's Sheraden section.

Robert E. Warfel, 32; his wife, Gay, 32; and their children moved into the house just last Saturday. The children were Bobbie Kay, 5; Billy, 4; Martin, 2; and Timothy, 6 months.

Battalion Fire Chief Linus J. Donahue said there was no indication what caused the blaze. It broke out shortly after 5 a. m.

"The house was burning all over from top to bottom when I got there 10 to 15 minutes later," Donahue said.

He said the fire apparently started on the second floor and burned down. Flames wrecked the interior, but the outside walls remained standing.

Donahue estimated damage at $3,500.

He said the children suffocated, and their parents were burned and suffocated.

A neighbor spotted the blaze and called police. Only one alarm was sounded as firemen had the flames under control upon arriving. Donahue said.

The tragedy followed one Thursday night near Kittanning in which four boys died in a fire that swept their home while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson, were attending a prayer meeting.

4 Keystoneians To Be Cited For Bravery

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Four Pennsylvanians, including a 50-year-old electrician who almost single-handedly captured a gun-wielding bank robber, were cited for heroism Friday by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

The electrician—Herbert J. Wright of Roscoe, Washington County—and the other Pennsylvanians were among the 23 persons named by the commission to receive bronze medals for bravery.

Also honored were Thomas E. Lucore, 41, of Erie, for rescuing a woman from her burning home; James W. Pittman, 36, of Clearfield, for pulling a schoolboy from a turbulent river; and David Jardine, 58, of Mercer R. D. 6, for saving a fellow worker from tumbling 40 feet to possible death.

Wright went into action without hesitation on the afternoon of Feb. 4, 1957, when another man told him a gunman was threatening to kill two women tellers and the assistant bank manager at a Roscoe bank.

Raced to the bank, crept up behind the gunman and grabbed him around the neck, forcing him to drop the gun. State police arrived at the scene minutes later and took over.

Lucore, a plant guard, received his medal for braving intense heat and flames to rescue Mrs. Pearl T. Curry, 36, from her burning one-story home in Erie on Jan. 4, 1959.

Shortly after the fire broke out, Mrs. Curry's husband led the couple's three children to safety. Mrs. Curry couldn't be found.

Lucore, a passerby, crashed through a window and discovered the woman lying unconscious on the kitchen floor. He dragged her to a back door where others were waiting to help. Minutes later the roof collapsed. Both Mrs. Curry and Lucore were hospitalized with burns.

On June 15, 1960, 14-year-old Donald R. Fetzler of Clearfield slipped from the undergirder of a bridge and tumbled into the rain-swollen West Branch of the Susquehanna River.

Pittman jumped into the swirling waters fully clothed and swam to the youngster's side. Then he towed the boy 335 feet through a heavy current before getting close enough to shore to receive help from another man.

Saves Life

Jardine, a pipefitter, was credited with saving the life of LeRoy A. Fetzler, 36, of Sharon, Pa., on July 28, 1960.

Marstall was working on some beams perched 40 feet above a concrete floor at an electrical products plant in Sharon. Suddenly, he lost consciousness and fell, one foot becoming wedged between a beam and a crane track.

Jardine climbed a ladder,

Mark Anniversary

MOSCOW (AP)—The 39th anniversary of the founding of the Communist party organ Pravda was marked Friday by cartoons in the organ and other Soviet papers portraying the Western press as permeated with rumors and under the control of monopolists.

Pravda walked along a steel beam and swung himself downward onto another beam about 75 feet above the floor near Marstall.

Jardine grasped Marstall, who was hanging upside down, around the waist with his arms and raised him enough to free his foot. Then with great effort, he maneuvered the heavier man onto the beam and held him steady until help arrived on a lift. Marstall suffered head injuries and was hospitalized.
